

Guide for New Projects

Overview

All new projects begin with making contact. The best way to get in contact with us is by raising a ticket by emailing lab@linguistik.uzh.ch. Please try to include as much information about your project as possible: whether it is a lab project or loan equipment, the equipment you plan to use and as much information about your experimental design as possible.

Depending on the nature of your project we may then arrange a meeting to discuss your requirements in depth and the feasibility of running your project at LiRI.

All projects are managed through our management system bFabric, this allows us to easily gather all the required information we need from you and once you are registered a project do things like book labspace and equipment.

First, you will need to create a user account which can be done here. Then you will need to register your project, for which you can find instructions here.
